

ABSTRACT

A handkerchief has a base layer of soft, absorbent material and a pouch layer of soft, absorbent material. The area of the pouch layer is less than the area of the base layer.

- 5 The pouch layer is attached to the base layer so as to form an enclosed pouch having a single access opening.